Heavy Rains and Floods in South Carolina, USA

Dear Shareholders,

You are aware that South Carolina, Columbia have been affected by unprecedented heavy rains followed by floods and electricity outage causing huge human losses and financial damages. Currently the rains have stopped and floods started receding.

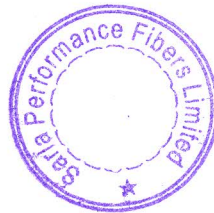

The Company has been rushed with lots of inquires about the situation of the plant at South Carolina.

This is to clarify that Fortunately our plant at Walterboro, South Carolina, USA is not at all affected either by floods or power outage etc and operations of plant are running normally as usual without any interruptions. There is NO what so ever any financial or operational loss to the Company.
